ASC Election Date Is Approaching Fast

The approaching election of ASC community committees for farm program administration in Coffee County was announced today by Roy L. Ellis, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. He called particular attention to the fact that the community committee elections this year are being held during the third week of September in all agricultural communities throughout the Nation in order to increase the awareness of this important farm-program function on eligible voters.

The farmer-committee system is a unique means of administering national agricultural programs and policies. The community committees assist the ASC county committee in administering the price support, acreage diversion, agricultural conservation, and other farm-action programs in the county; they are particularly responsible for keeping their neighbors informed about the programs. The county committee supervises the ASCS county office and is responsible for the administration of the various programs.

Voting will be by mail. The Chairman explained, and ballots will be sent to each known eligible voter not later than September 8, 1967, in case eligible voters fail to receive a ballot through the mail, he may receive a ballot at the Coffee county ASCS Office in New Brockton, Georgia, a farm owner, tenant, or sharecropper is eligible to take part in one or more of the programs administered by the ASC committees. Eligibility to vote or to hold office as a committeeman is not restricted by reason of race, color, creed, or national origin.

Pay Proper Respect To American Flag

Traditionally, "The Star-Spangled Banner" is played before the beginning of sporting events throughout the country. With the arrival of football season, players and spectators are reminded of the proper procedure to follow in honoring the American flag.

When the national anthem begins, everyone is to stand at attention and face the flag. A man removes his hat and holds it with his right hand over his heart. If he is not wearing a hat, he places his right hand over his heart. Women leave their hats on and place their right hands over their hearts.

This pose should be held throughout the playing of the anthem to show respect and loyalty.

Bloodmobile To Be In Elba Monday

The bloodmobile will only call 897-2975, September 11. It will be set up from 9 A.M. until 3 P.M. at the First Baptist Church, according to Mrs. Evelyn Duncan, blood drive chairman. The regular quota for West Coffee County is 125 pints but more is needed this year because Elba didn't reach its quota last year. There were 290 pints used at the Elba hospital and only 206 pints were donated during 1966.

Referral Center Opened By OEO Group

Six Rural Resources referral centers, operating under the Organized Community Action Program have been opened in Coffee County. The centers are located in Troy, Brundage, Union Springs, Midway, Elba and Enterprise. The central office, located in Troy in the Fomar Building, is supervised by Freeman assisted by Mrs. Betty Griffin.

The staff of these referral centers consists of field counselors, clerks, typists and county co-ordinators from each county in Area 23. The field counselors will be instrumental in reaching the people and informing them of existing public agencies that will assist them in their basic needs.

The county co-ordinators will be responsible for working very closely with the local county offices of public agencies to assist the poor. These agencies include Pensions and Security, Public Health, Employment Service, Farmers Home Administration, Veterans Administration, Social Security, Soil Conservation and others. Other duties of county co-ordinators include informing the staff of CAA as to the most frequent needs of the poor and which programs need to be applied for through OEO in helping the poor to help themselves.

Bicycle Safety Can Cut Down Car Accidents

Count the bikes in front of the schoolhouse, multiply by the number of schools, and you have a fair idea of the size of the bicycle traffic that motorists will encounter in the streets during the coming school year.

A couple years ago, a spokesman for the ALABAMA MOTOR CLUB notes, it was estimated that there were 33 million bikes in use by 56 million cyclists, and their numbers increase each year.

For parents, it is important that the bike they buy their youngsters be the correct size for the child to drive in order for him to control it.

According to the National Safety Council, when the bike driver sits in the saddle with the heel of one foot on the low pedal and grasps the handlebars:

1. His leg, thigh and the heel on the low pedal should form a straight line.

2. The seat should be parallel to the ground.

3. The upper part of the body should be inclined slightly forward.

4. Handlebar grips should be at right angles to the handlebar stem and about the same height of the seat.

5. Hands should fall naturally to the handlebars strips without stretching, an even break out in traffic congested streets, parents can contribute this much: A bike the correct size for the driver to handle, a bike mechanically safe, and the all-important "driver education" he needs to protect his life.

Boosters To Sell Calendars

The Elba Band Boosters Club has kicked off the annual calendar campaign with high hopes of topping their all-time high last year. The money derived from this source is used to replace band uniforms, music and other necessary equipment.

Mrs. Lister Brunson is chairman of the advertising sales and calendar sales years.

HAROLD HUDSON, LEFT, WITH DEACON AND MRS. SAM ROWE

NEW BAPTIST DEACON - On Sunday morning, September 3rd., the Elba First Baptist Church ordained Sam Rowe as a deacon of the church. Following the ordination sermon by the pastor, Dr. Charles Graham, the special ordination ceremony was conducted, in which the other deacons of the church participated. Fred Clark delivered the charge to the new deacon and to the church; Chairman of Deacons, Harold Hudson, presented a special gift book on behalf of the church; and after the traditional ceremony of laying on of hands by all the deacons and other ordained men present, Enis Paul prayed the ordination prayer.

"YA GONA" START TWELVE COACH! - We have heard stories about the new Elba coach's ability to move mountains, but there is some doubt that he will be able to convince the game officials or the Brantley coaches that all twelve of these Elba Tigers should be in the starting lineup Friday night.

SERIOUSLY though Coach Leon Atkins stated this week that these twelve boys have each earned the right to be part of the "starting eleven" even though he will be able to start only eleven of the twelve pictured.

The Burning Question

NEW YORK (CFN)—"Child Dies As Clothes Catch on Fire" ... "Woman, 73, Suffers Severe Burns From Flammable Nightgown" ... "Sparklers Turn Children's Party Into Tragedy"—How often have you read headlines or heard news bulletins similar to these?

Because clothing fires are not reported to any central state or national agency, it is almost impossible to estimate precisely the number of casualties. But, according to the American Medical Association, there are 2,000 fatalities in the U.S. annually, plus as many as 250,000 injuries requiring medical attention.

Most of the victims are the very young and the aged. Even more significant, the clothing causing burn fatalities and injuries is the ordinary apparel of millions of people—who buy and wear these articles oblivious of the hazard they create.

Two recent events are focusing public attention on the clothing fire problem. The first is an announcement by the Federal Trade Commission that it will initiate a study of clothing flammability, particularly children's clothing. The second is the Conference on Burns and Flame-Retardant Fabrics, held at the New York Academy of Medicine on December 2-3 this past year.

At the Conference, Dr. Richard A. Frindle, of the U.S. Public Health Service, emphasized the seriousness of clothing fires by pointing to a recent study in Birmingham, Michigan. Of the 179 clothing ignitions analyzed, 37% required skin grafts and extensive surgery, while only 6% of those whose clothing did not ignite required surgery and hospitalization.

Dr. Frindle noted, "Wool fibers are comparatively flame resistant in their natural state. Wool is not often found among fibers worn by individuals involved in severe clothing burns. Wool, however, is not the only fabric used today in the manufacture of clothing."

George L. Drake, Jr., of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, stated that the melting of nylon when ignited and its sticking to the skin can be more dangerous than the flame itself because the resulting burns are so difficult to treat.

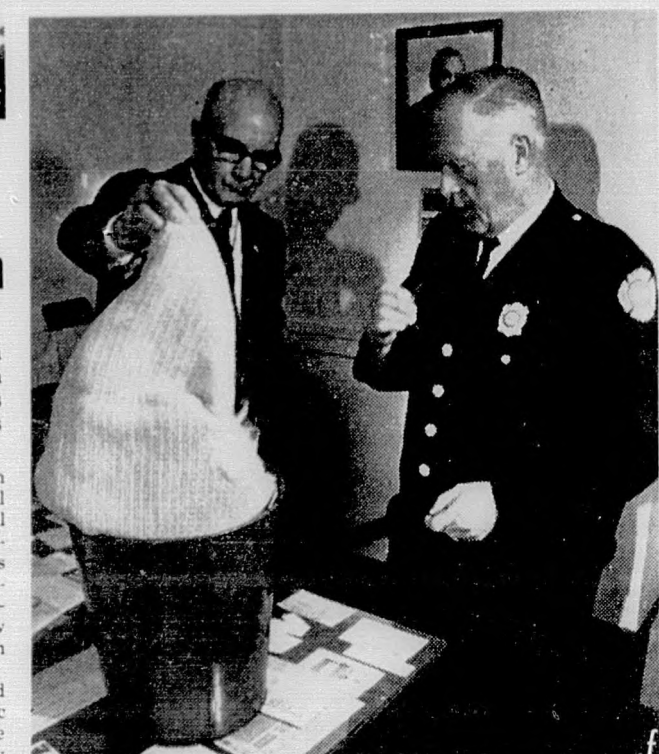

Louis Segal, Fire Prevention Engineer, advocated a national law requiring that certain fabrics carry a warning label right on the garment. He added that "You could exempt garments that didn't need such a label, for instance, wool or an adequately treated garment."

When selecting apparel, remember, clothing design is an important factor in the safety of a garment against fire.

Because it is relatively close fitting, men's and boy's clothing resists burning. Women's garments tend to be loose fitting with ruffles and long sleeves. Little girls' flared and many-petted party dresses are especially risky, because they offer abundant fuel and the material is in a vertical position, where it burns most readily.

In addition to the careful selection of materials and styles, you should teach children the hazards of playing with matches, sparklers, or fire crackers and failing to keep a respectful distance from any source of intense heat. If clothing does catch on fire, don't run, roll on the floor or ground or try to smother the flames with a wool coat, blanket or rug.

A clothing fire starts with some sort of carelessness, negligence or ignorance. It has, in fact, been called by an expert in the field: "A tragedy of ignorance." It will indeed be a tragedy, if we do not promote extensive public education in clothing fire prevention at the same time we seek other solutions.

Travel Industry Gets Boost

A much-needed proposal of aid to the state's travel industry member-ship and to out-of-state travelers received unanimous support in the recent session of the state legislature.

A bill signed into law by Governor Lurleen B. Wallace gives the go-ahead for the construction and erection of directional signs for year-round tourist attractions. The signs will be placed at designated points along interstate and primary road systems in proximity to the selected sites.

The measure, fostered by the Bureau of Publicity and Information, got an approving nod from the State Highway Department in the early stages of writing. The highway department will be responsible for the construction and erection of the signs with the Bureau defraying the cost from funds earmarked for travel promotion and advertising.

Ten thousand dollars is made available for a two-year program in which time additional signs will be required for other locations after the initial phase is completed for those attractions now qualifying.

The directional signs are slated to be approximately 8' x 4' in size for the interstate roads and 4' x 2' on the primary roads. White letters on a green background make up the color combination. The directional signs will not appear in clusters. Signs of routing posts nor will they take on an advertising slant. They will merely carry the name of the attraction, mileage figures and directional arrows.

"It is essential that Alabama's attractions be made more easily accessible to the traveling public. I think this is one of the finest things that could be done for travel in Alabama. This should be a major project in boosting the state's travel income and assisting our tourism industry," said Governor Lurleen B. Wallace.

Travelers now have only an extremely small number of signs directing them to state attractions. Signs in existence have been built and erected by attraction owners and managers. With the uniform directional signs pointing the way, travelers will not be confused with inadequate information thus enabling a sharp increase in attendance numbers.

According to a recent nationwide auto club survey, more and more motorists are complaining that signs along the highways (not just for tourist attractions) don't always tell them how they can get to where they want to go. Work on the directional signs program already has begun with an eye toward completion of the project in 1968.

TEAM CAPTAINS David Stokes and Tommy Dewberry, both seniors at Elba High School, will serve as team captains for the Elba-Bramley game in Tiger Stadium Friday night.

Coach Leon Atkins plans to select team captains for each game and at the end of the season the team will vote on permanent captains.

Measuring Your Mattress Needs

Most Americans are far taller than their ancestors and getting steadily taller. According to the Sleep Information Bureau of the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, we're all growing. At the rate of an inch per generation. At the turn of the century, only one man in 25 was over six feet tall. Today that figure has increased to one in five.

Even the Japanese, traditionally a short people, are growing. While no one is sure just why the change is taking place, the chances are that increased dietary knowledge and an emphasis on balanced meals probably have something to do with it. Another factor is the widespread use of vitamins, unknown to our forefathers.

A simple rule for purchasers of beds, says the Urethane Institute, if you want them to fit your family, is to allow an extra ten inches, five at each end, for sleeping comfort. Since standard beds are only 75 inches, it stands to reason that a single bed for a man, as well as a double bed for a married couple, should be oversized, if for this reason alone.

And while you're shopping for new beds, investigate urethane foam mattresses because they have a great deal of money over conventional mattresses and get many extras. Hospitals, hotels and other institutions use urethane foam mattresses because of their versatility as far as cleaning is concerned. Although light weight and very durable, fire-cleaned, steamed and sterilized without harm to the inner construction.

Other advantages of this new man-made material is that mattress made from urethane foam are non-allergenic because they contain no natural fibers such as hair, rubber and cotton.

Mr. Scott went on to say that many persons who could be receiving disability payments fail to apply because they are unaware of the recent change in the definition of disability. It is no longer necessary, he explained, that a person be permanently disabled.

Anyone who has been disabled for at least 12 months or has a disabling condition which could last for 12 months, should apply immediately for this new disability protection.

Mr. Scott points out that the work requirements for disability benefits have not changed. A person must have 5 years of work under social security during the

How important are good scissors? The answer is that a good pair of scissors are a necessity if you are to enjoy sewing. In fact, if you do very much sewing, you need three styles of scissors. They are sewing scissors about 5 to 6 inches long for work at the machine, dressmaker's shears for making pattern cutting a snap, and finishing shears for pinning or skalloping.

Family Car Serves As Living Room On Trips

For millions of Americans the family car becomes an extension of the home living room during vacation travel. This has led the home safety division of the Greater New York State Council to issue a bulletin on family vacation motoring with emphasis on extension of the home living room and safety of youngsters.

Prepared by Mrs. Marjorie B. May, director of home safety, the bulletin advises that one adult assume the specific responsibility of reading to the children, tending to their care and otherwise keeping them from annoying the driver. It suggests such games as identifying birds or out-of-state license plates or keeping count of cows or red barns on opposite sides of the road.

Seat belts are called a necessity for all over six, with approval of the car seat for younger children and car bed for the baby. While stressing the need for safety belts on the road, Mrs. May says that removing rear door handles to keep youngsters from opening the doors constitutes a hazard. The bulletin warns against carrying foods that spoil easily in hot weather or cause thirst. It cites as special hazards lollipops with hard sticks that might jam into children's throats in a sudden stop.

All Veterans To Benefit From New Law

President Johnson, August 31, 1967, signed into law a bill providing for significant increases in benefits for Viet-Nam veterans and for older veterans as well.

Called the Veterans Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967, most provisions become effective October 1, 1967. Under an older provision, veterans of the Viet-Nam Era, which began August 5, 1964, will receive compensation for disabilities at full wartime rates and will qualify for non-service-connected pensions on the same basis as older veterans. Their widows and children become eligible for non-service-connected death benefits.

While this provision becomes effective October 1, an allowance of $250 for burial and funeral expenses of deceased individuals who served in the Viet-Nam Era became effective today.

Under the law, certain other major provisions of the current program will apply to all qualified veterans who served after January 31, 1955. These include:

Educational assistance allowances for full-time courses have been increased from $100 to $130 a month for a single veteran, from $125 to $155 for a veteran with one dependent, and from $150 to $175 for a veteran with two dependents. The new law allows payment of an additional statutory award for each of these veterans for each of these years.

Monthly allowances for on-the-job training for the first six months will range from $80 a month for a single veteran to $100 a month when there are two or more dependents. The allowances are reduced for succeeding six-month periods.

Monthly allowances for farm cooperative training will cover institutional agricultural courses with a minimum of 12 clock hours per week in addition to related work on the farm. Allowances range from $105 a month for the single veteran to $145 a month when there are two dependents, plus an additional $7 a month for each additional dependent.

Ninety per cent of the established charge for flight training is provided for veterans with a private pilot license or the equivalent in flight training hours) who can pass the physical examination for a commercial pilot's license.

An allowance of $1,600 will be authorized for the purchase of specially-equipped automobiles for certain severely disabled veterans.

World War II veterans benefit by the new law by having the final cut-off date on eligibility for the G.I. Loan program extended to July 25, 1970, from July 25, 1967. Some other provisions of the law extend benefits to certain of America's veterans, from the same basis as older veterans. Their widows and children become eligible for non-service-connected death benefits.

All Veterans To Benefit From New Law

President Johnson, August 31, 1967, signed into law a bill providing for significant increases in benefits for Viet-Nam veterans and for older veterans as well.

Called the Veterans Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967, most provisions become effective October 1, 1967. Under an older provision, veterans of the Viet-Nam Era, which began August 5, 1964, will receive compensation for disabilities at full wartime rates and will qualify for non-service-connected pensions on the same basis as older veterans. Their widows and children become eligible for non-service-connected death benefits.

While this provision becomes effective October 1, an allowance of $250 for burial and funeral expenses of deceased individuals who served in the Viet-Nam Era became effective today.

Under the law, certain other major provisions of the current program will apply to all qualified veterans who served after January 31, 1955. These include:

Educational assistance allowances for full-time courses have been increased from $100 to $130 a month for a single veteran, from $125 to $155 for a veteran with one dependent, and from $150 to $175 for a veteran with two dependents. The new law allows payment of an additional statutory award for each of these veterans for each of these years.

Monthly allowances for on-the-job training for the first six months will range from $80 a month for a single veteran to $100 a month when there are two or more dependents. The allowances are reduced for succeeding six-month periods.

Monthly allowances for farm cooperative training will cover institutional agricultural courses with a minimum of 12 clock hours per week in addition to related work on the farm. Allowances range from $105 a month for the single veteran to $145 a month when there are two dependents, plus an additional $7 a month for each additional dependent.

Ninety per cent of the established charge for flight training is provided for veterans with a private pilot license or the equivalent in flight training hours) who can pass the physical examination for a commercial pilot's license.

Threat to U.S. Well-being

The growing size and complexity of federal grants to state and local governments is a threat to the fiscal well-being and independence of the smaller bodies, the Tax Foundation, Inc., charged recently.

In a 64-page "Handbook of State and Local Government Finance," C. Lowell Harris, economic consultant to the foundation and Columbia University professor of economics, said federal influence through grants "continues to multiply and the pattern of controls has become so largely fixed that modification proves very difficult."

State and local lawmakers feel compelled to accept federal money when offered, the professor said.

"To get the grant," he wrote, "even when the federal dollars are a small fraction of the total, the receiving government may need to modify its operations to meet federal requirements."

The foundation describes itself as a private, non-profit organization founded to engage in non-partisan research and public education on the fiscal and management aspects of government.

Swain Completes Communication Course

Army Private F. J. Swain, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Swain, Route 1, Elba, Alabama, completed a field communications crewman course Sept. 1 at Ft. Gordon, Georgia.

During the course, he was trained to string wire from the field to the communication center. Instruction was also given in basic electricity, switchboard installation and operation and pole climbing.

Kirk will be clear but the school teachers who many people think are already making more money than they should will be blamed. Whether the teachers in Florida are making more money than deserved or not I sure can't say. I'm not a teacher. As for one thing they are asking I can't go along with. Since I work around 18 hours a day and for less money than the better Florida teachers I can't understand the teachers having more time off for lounging. I guess I'm sorta jealous in the first place so my opinion can't be worth much toward what the teachers want - they already get off from work 3 1/2 hours earlier than I do each day so I'm not very negative from that particular standpoint of their request. But when I think about it, I would like more time off and some time during working hours to lounge around but that is just one of the many requests the Florida teachers are making. They may be deserving. I'm in no position to know since I have not made a study of the situation.

But I have an idea as to who is going to end the getting the blame for Florida's new taxes which will have to come and it will not be the governor nor the legislature.

ANYHOW we have enough trouble in Alabama to start trying to tell Florida what to do. It is interesting that in the past teachers left Alabama to go to Florida because they said they could get a better salary and other considerations. According to that teachers in Florida already have the edge on Florida schools and teachers get what they are asking for. Kirk continues to hold out about calling a special session of the legislature at this time. I have an idea that the special session will be called before many weeks and perhaps soon and that Florida taxes will be raised. Then everybody will be mad - for awhile at least. And you know who is going to get the blame while the people in Florida are getting accustomed to the new taxes.

The Florida school teachers will get the blunt end of the blame is my opinion. They will walk-out. Kirk will be forced to call the special session and it would be necessary if the

WHAT WILL IT MAKE? — That is the question pondered by Coffee County Extension Farm Agent J. R. Speed, left, and J. W. Watson of New Brockton as they inspect a 12-acre field of corn owned by Watson's son, Louie. The corn looks as though it will yield at least 70 to 75 bushels an acre, and might go to 100, says Speed. Watson planted the first week in April and fertilized with 250 pounds of 12-12-12 fertilizer and 250 pounds of ammonium nitrate an acre.

Broiler Plants Decreasing, Product Is Increasing

Alabama has 20 USDA inspected processing plants which handled over 90 per cent of the 324 million broilers produced in the state last year.

According to Extension Poultry Marketing Specialist Wilson Lee, the number of processing plants in the United States has been steadily declining while the volume processed per plant has increased.

The Auburn University staff member reports that in 1959 there were an estimated 594 broiler processing plants in the nation while three years later only 320 were reported. However, says Lee, these 320 plants in 1962 were processing a much larger volume of broilers than the 594 plants in 1959.

It is estimated, adds Lee, that about half the total plants process 90 per cent of all U. S. broilers.

folks are having trouble trying to control Bahia-grass in their lawns, but I didn't know that so many are anxious to control this pest. I have had probably two dozen calls for information on these chemicals.

To keep more Bahia-grass from coming into my lawn, I plan to use a few pounds of Dacthal or Betoson about the middle of February next year. These two materials will kill Bahia-grass seed, crab grass seed and, in fact, all of the grass seed.

By using either one of these materials, which comes in both granular and liquid forms, I will just have to fight the existing Bahia-grass in the months to come. For further information on this, get in touch with me and I will give more complete information.

PEANUTS

We are so early in the peanut harvesting right now it is hard to tell exactly how yields are going to turn out. Hubert Barley of Route One, New Brockton, told me that his were picking around 1800 pounds per acre. These were some he plowed up before the rains. However, it seems fairly certain that if we don't loose too many in the grounds that we are going to make good yields in most areas in the county.

While I was visiting with the Barleys, he told me he's made the best corn crop ever on his place.

Right now is a good time to apply trunk sprays to control peach tree borers.

SEPTEMBER BIRTHDAYS

September 3, 1898 — The first municipal subway was built for street railway transportation in Boston — the Tremont Street Subway.

September 7, 1813 — The nickname "Uncle Sam" stems from this day. John T. Porsch, America's World War I military leader, and 25,000 soldiers of the United States First Division were welcomed home by the City of New York in one of the greatest parades and receptions ever tendered by that city.

September 13, 1909 — Oskar Straus' operetta, The Chocolate Soldier, with its waltz song "My Hero," opened at the Casino Theatre in New York.

September 16, 1630 — The village of Shawmut, Massachusetts changed its name to Boston, taking its new name from Boston, England.

September 25, 1690 — The first American newspaper, "Publick Occurrences, Both Foreign and Domestic," was published by Benjamin Harris in Boston, Mass.

FERTILIZER HELPS MAKE LAWN PRETTY

Beautiful lawns don't just happen—they require care and management. Proper fertilization, good mowing practices and adequate moisture are essential to a healthy, vigorous attractive lawn, says O. N. Andrews, Extension agronomist.

It's best to lime and fertilize according to soil tests. If you have zoysia-grass, bermudagrass or St. Augustinegrass and your soil is medium of high fertility level, apply 12 pounds of 8-8-8 per 1,000 square feet this month.

Weigh of measure fertilizer and apply it uniformly over the area. Too much fertilizer can be as harmful as too little.

TIRE TRUING

EXCLUSIVE TRU-MATIC

Very few tires are really round, regardless of the brand, grade or price of the tire. They are made in round molds, but during the cooling process, the tire contracts and creates high and low spots on the tire. At today's high speeds, these high spots create a bounce action, which in turn, causes vibration—a dangerous driving condition—and extra wear on both the tire and the car.

- ✓ Safe Driving
- ✓ Smoother Ride
- ✓ Longer Wear

the ball back into the end zone in only a few plays however. One other TD was called back on a clipping penalty later in the second quarter. David Stokes caught a pass and fought his way into the end zone only to have that one called back and Elba in turn lost the ball on downs without reaching a passing first.

Scoring for Elba was Jerome Ward, one yard run and a 20 yard pass from Joel Martin; David Stokes on a kick-off return of 81 yards in the third quarter. Johnny Sharples picked two extra points for the Elba Tigers.

The Elba Tigers meted the Luverne Tigers their worst week in Elba. Luverne defeated Georgians last week by the score of 12 to 7.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile visited Elba Monday and the public response was overwhelming. A total of 170 pints were accepted and 28 persons were referred for medical reasons. Mrs. Evelyn Duncan, blood program chairman, and staff of volunteer workers are to be commended for their untiring efforts in preparing for and operating the facilities Monday.

ROTARY GUEST SPEAKER at the regular meeting last Monday was District Governor Floyd Vallery of Auburn, Alabama. Vallery is Vice President of Auburn University. ## Poultry Means Big Business In Alabama

How much is a thousand million dollars?

That's how much consumers will probably spend this year on convenience foods containing chicken and turkey.

It is estimated that consumers will spend approximately $1 billion on such diverse items as boneless turkey, chicken, chicken a-la-king, chicken and turkey barbecue, chicken breasts, thighs, chicken pizza, gravy and sliced turkey, chicken ravioli and turkey meatballs.

The poultry division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service Inspects all of these products produced in plants which ship across state lines. It also grades some of them—the boneless poultry roast-

Dawson Resigns Position At Mulberry Heights

He received his B. S. degree from Alabama A. & M. College and a Master's of Education from Tuskegee Institute.

LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY

Alabama's cattle industry is being hit hard by cattle grubs, says Dr. Roy J. Ledbetter, entomologist on the Auburn University Extension Service staff.

He explains that cattle grubs are the larvae of heel-flies. The flies laid their eggs on the cattle last spring, and since then the grubs have been migrating through the body of the host animal.

Beginning in December the grubs will move to the animal's back, remaining there about six weeks, then cut through the hide, drop to the ground and pupate.

Nursing Homes Are For Aged

Alabama's licensed nursing homes are a primary resource for care of aged, dependent individuals. But the state's nursing care are neither flexible nor possible, Ruben K. Rosen, director of the U.S. Social Security Administration's Pension and Security, said today.

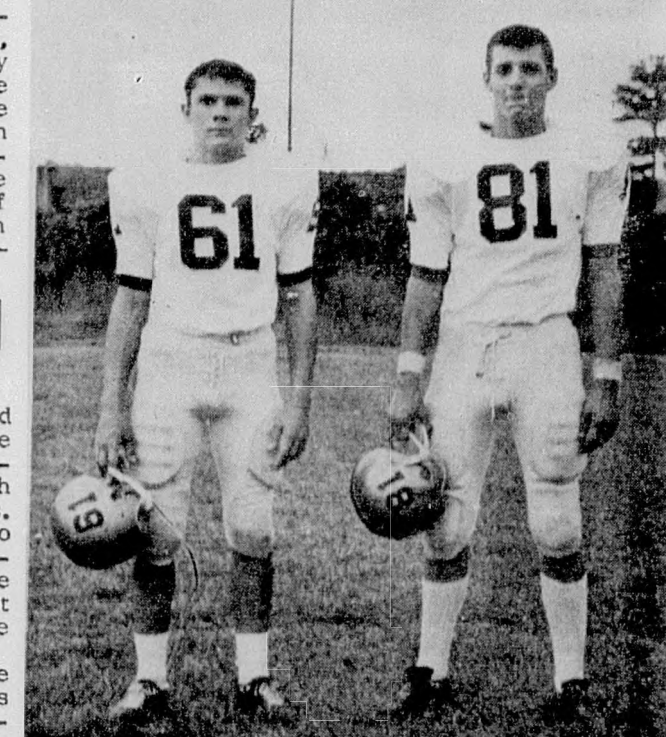

HHS released a report of pensions and Security provided such care for 6,489 assistance recipients during 1987.

The total included 5,852 old age pensioners, 23 blind persons, one adult in a nursing home, and 426 institutional nursing care and the requirements that the plan for such care be developed in cooperation with the recipient's family. Maximums are fixed at 50 percent of the amount that can be paid for nursing care, and the item and as to the amount that can be paid by the Department.

Monthly payments by the agency to nursing homes for care of recipients total $10.5 million, or an average was $177.56 per recipient. The charges for nursing care are $100 a month the agency can pay.

It was explained that all nursing homes are licensed by the State Health Department and those that meet additional requirements are licensed as skilled nursing homes. The State Department of Pensions and Security can assist in paying for care only in a licensed institution. Regulations governing participation in the care by the Department of Pensions and Security include the requirement that a physician recommend in-

TEAM CAPTAINS for the Elba-Luveme football game this Friday night are seniors David Inman and Larry Grantham. Both played an excellent game last week against the Brantley Bulldogs.

ROLL TIGERS, ROLL is the message these Tigers were getting Monday afternoon as the Elba Tigers prepare for their game this Friday with the Luverne team. Coach Akins reports that he was pleased with the team effort put forth by the boys but stated that the team needed improvement in several areas if Elba is to continue winning football games.
